

60 YEARS OF LIFE AT THE CENTRO CAMUNO DI STUDI PREISTORICI IN VALCAMONICA — RESEARCHERS, STUDENTS AND OTHER PARTICIPANTS (1964-2024)

Mila Simões de Abreu

Since its inception, the Centre, as an association, has been led by a council directly elected by its members. From among its members, a President was chosen, supported by a group of auditors and a director heading a permanent staff team. For reasons of representation and organisational efficiency, the council later introduced the roles of Vice-President and Secretary.

While dozens of members served as Presidents, councillors, and auditors over the years, Professor Emmanuel Anati remained the Centre's director until 2015, when he was named Honorary President. In the last decade, an editorial team and a scientific council were established to collaborate with and advise the Board of Directors.

Over the decades, in addition to its permanent staff (administrative, operational, library, archive, and Edizioni del Centro), the Centre has always relied on the support of many scholars, researchers, students, and volunteers.

This document aims to compile, as thoroughly as possible, information about all Presidents, councillors, auditors, staff members, researchers, fellows, students, and summer camp volunteers.

Researchers coordinated projects or activities in the area, while others often conducted their own research (theses, books, etc.). Many of them also contributed to organising the Centre's numerous scientific meetings, editorial activities, and outreach initiatives such as lectures, courses, and missions. Many fellows stayed at the Centre for extended periods thanks to support from their universities, as well as institutions such as the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and organisations like AFSAI, Rotary, ICOMOS, and UNESCO.

The work carried out by the Centre over six decades—resulting in the discovery, identification, excavation, cleaning, tracing, and study of over 2,000 engraved rocks and more than 300,000 images; the publication of 45 BCSP volumes and numerous other works; and the hosting of the Valcamonica Symposia—would not have been possible without the volunteers who participated in summer campaigns, summer schools, and courses. For several years, the Centre also benefited from conscientious objectors through a ministerial agreement, and the American organisation “Earthwatch” sent volunteers from many U.S. states.

Many of these volunteers returned year after year, and many students later became researchers and professors at universities in Italy and worldwide. Others went on to work in national institutions such as museums, superintendencies, and various organisations.

The names, years of participation, places of origin (countries and cities), roles, and responsibilities were compiled using various sources, including the “Director’s Reports” published in BCSP, later in BCNotizie, the Centre’s archive, and other publications such as the Valcamonica Symposium proceedings and meeting records.

While every effort has been made to gather accurate data, it was not possible to include all information about every individual. Despite our best efforts, some details may not reflect reality, and some names may have been unintentionally omitted—for which we sincerely apologise.

This list, containing the names of 1,387 people from 47 countries, demonstrates the spirit of teamwork and collaboration that united us in the pursuit of scientific knowledge and the preservation of Valcamonica’s ancient heritage, shared with the world.

As we celebrate these 60 years, we cannot help but express our heartfelt gratitude to each one of them - Grazie!
